Academic Appointments

2022 – present Columbia University, Department of Psychiatry
Postdoctoral Research Scientist
Principal Investigator: Randy Auerbach, Ph.D.

Education

2022 University of Illinois at Chicago
Ph.D., Psychology
Supervisor: Stewart Shankman, Ph.D.
Dissertation Title: A prospective twin study of the bidirectional associations between depression and stressful life events

2018 University of Illinois at Chicago
M.A., Psychology
Thesis Advisor: Stewart Shankman, Ph.D.
Thesis Title: Social feedback valence differentially modulates the reward positivity, P300, and late positive potential

2015 Connecticut College
B.A., Psychology (Minor: Applied Statistics)
Thesis Advisor: Audrey Zakriski, Ph.D.
Thesis Title: An outcome evaluation of a peer-based suicide prevention program for college students

Federal Funding

2020 – 2022 National Institute of Mental Health F31 MH123042 (PI: Funkhouser)
Ruth L. Kirschstein National Research Service Award
Title: Twin modeling of individual symptoms of depression and generalized anxiety: A symptom network approach
Role: Principal Investigator
Amount awarded: $83,176

2019 – 2020 National Institute of Mental Health T32 MH067631 (PI: Rasenick)
Title: Training in the Neuroscience of Mental Health
Role: Predoctoral Fellow
Amount awarded: $24,816

Research Experience

2017 – present Northwestern Emotion and Risk Lab

Northwestern University/University of Illinois at Chicago

Supervisor: Stewart Shankman, Ph.D.

- Projects: NIMH-funded study (R01 MH118741) characterizing psychomotor disturbance in current and remitted depression; NIMH-funded studies (R01 MH119771, R21 MH112330) identifying social processes associated with depression risk
- Duties: mentor junior graduate students and undergraduates; supervise physiological data collection and processing; clean and organize ambulatory assessment data; analyze data in R and SPSS

2015 – 2017 Chicago Lab of Emotion and Physiology

University of Illinois at Chicago

Supervisor: Stewart Shankman, Ph.D.

- Project: NIMH-funded study (R01 MH098093) examining reduced reward anticipation and heightened sensitivity to potential threat as potential familial risk factors for depression and anxiety, respectively
- Duties: conducted clinical interviews (Structured Clinical Interview for DSM-5 and Longitudinal Interval Follow-up Evaluation); collected psychophysiological data (electroencephalography [EEG], electromyography [EMG]); administered neuropsychological assessments and behavioral tasks; processed psychophysiological data, recruited and screened participants; supervised undergraduate theses; trained and supervised undergraduate research assistants

2014 – 2015 Senior Honor's Thesis Study

Connecticut College

Supervisor: Audrey Zakriski, Ph.D.

- Project: self-designed study to evaluate the effects of a suicide prevention program on college students' responses to and desired social distance from at-risk peers, self-stigma and perceived stigma associated with psychological help-seeking, and knowledge of depression and suicide
- Duties: obtained IRB approval; recruited participants; collected data by implementing the suicide prevention program; analyzed data; wrote up results

- 2014 Positive Emotion & Psychopathology Lab
 Yale University
 Supervisors: June Gruber, Ph.D. and John Purcell, B.S., B.A.
- Project: study examining affective and neuroendocrine processes related to reward sensitivity in unipolar and bipolar depression
 - Duties: Processed psychophysiological data, performed literature reviews

Clinical Experience

- 2017 – 2020 Office of Applied Psychological Services
 Department of Psychology, University of Illinois at Chicago
- Provided empirically-supported psychotherapy for depressive disorders, anxiety disorders, anger, and interpersonal difficulties in a community outpatient clinic
 - Conducted diagnostic intake assessments and wrote intake reports
 - Mentored junior students completing diagnostic intakes
 - Administered neuropsychological assessments and interpreted, documented, and communicated the results of assessments to clients, supervisors, and colleagues
- 2019 Women's Mental Health Research Program
 Department of Psychiatry, University of Illinois at Chicago
- Worked as a paid Graduate Research Assistant supervising graduate students learning to administer the Structured Clinical Interview for DSM (SCID)
- 2015 – 2018 Chicago Lab of Emotion and Physiology
 Department of Psychology, University of Illinois at Chicago
- Conducted SCIDs and Longitudinal Interval Follow-Up (LIFE) interviews with adults with various psychopathologies
- 2014 – 2015 Sound Community Services
 New London, CT
- Worked as a Rehabilitation Specialist at a behavioral health program for adults with severe and persistent mental illness
 - Developed and led new group programs
 - Taught educational and social skills through psychosocial interventions
 - Collaborated on the planning and implementation of social and recreational activities
